Prue Trollop of FLATOUT Australia sent her company's FLATOUT baer to celebrities, and got back Thank You notes from Sarah Jessica Parker, Brooke Shields, Hugh Jackman, and Jennifer Garner:

"You can't imagine how delighted and surprised James Wilkie and I were to receive your very kind gift. What a charming and adorable little bear. And honestly, when I opened your package, my son was sleeping and I really struggled with the question of whether I had the strength and character to give it to my son rather than keep it for myself. That is the truth. But my better half gained control and when my son awoke I was thrilled to give it to him and even more so to see his face upon receipt. Anyway... I don't know how to thank you. It was so good of you to think of us. To include us in your gesture. And we will take good care of our new little bear. James Wilkie immediately named him Catlin and asked if he could come downstairs for supper. You can see he will enjoy a well fed life, well traveled life as I suspect he will go everywhere we do. And he will be loved. So once again, many thanks and much good luck with your future endeavors."

Warmest regards,

Sarah Jessica Parker

"We ALL love the FLATOUTbear! Even Darla, our dog, tried to get hold of our furry friend. Thank you for thinking of us."

- Brooke Shields

"Thank you so much for the adorable bear. It has already found a home in our family. We greatly appreciate your generosity."

- Hugh Jackman

"Thank you so much for the FLATOUTbear. I love it & know our baby will too!"

- Jennifer Garner

So, I'm sure you want to know how much all of this is going to cost, right?

First, just think of how much it would cost you to personally hire and consult with all of the experts in this system. None of them charge less than $500 per hour, and most have stopped consulting with new clients altogether. Also, think of what it would cost you to hire a PR firm to do what you can do yourself using this system. It would cost you upwards of $10,000 to $20,000 dollars. And that's without any guarantee they'll be able to do what they say!
