

My Friends Laughed...
When I told Them That I Could Instantly
Pick Up Any Beautiful Woman That They Pointed Out To Me.

But When I Went Into Action
Their Laughter Turned Into Total Amazement.

My friends then saw a new side of me that they had never seen before... they didn't have a clue. It took them by total surprise.

Why were they so surprised?... because I had always been pretty much of a total 'dork' with women. Women never took me serious before, they never even gave me the time of day. I had no success with women at all.

Picking up a woman was something I could never do before. I'm not even good looking; in fact I'm less than plain. I'm not sharp with words. I never know what to say. Women used to avoid making eye contact with me. They used to look right through me... not hold eye contact with me, the way they look at a man when they are interested.

So What's My Secret?

Of course I'm going to tell you my secret quickly. within the next 30 seconds... but first let me ask you a couple of real quick questions... stay with me. I promise that you will be learning my secret... and it's well worth another 30 seconds. You are going to be amazed... it's going to change your life.

1 - Have you ever been awkward and all thumbs, when you tried to get the attention of a woman that you wanted to meet?

Oh, it's so embarrassing when you try to act cool... when you try to figure out what words to use to get her attention... and all that actually happens is that somehow you come off appearing like a jerk.

Has that ever happened to you? It's so embarrassing. Did you ever wish that the earth would "open up" so that you could simply fall in and disappear?

2 – If you did finally manage to get her attention, did you "draw a blank" when you tried to think of things to say to keep that "magic moment" going?

Have you ever stood there... looking at her, at the ground, at her shoes, her hair... and couldn't think of anything to say? You were in total "conversation idea lock down"... you could not think of one thing to talk about. Did you go home thinking that "well, you blew it again".

Did you start to wonder what was wrong with you? Why some men seem to always be so cool around women... always seem to know exactly what to say... always getting a fantastic conversation going that attracts the woman to him like a strong magnet was irresistibly pulling her towards him. You could actually see her "wall of resistance" melting... as her body language showed that she is obviously becoming attracted to him.

Yet all you could do was freeze up... and blew it. Were you feeling that you wished that you could change that?

Does Your Inner Voice Scream "Talk To Her, Talk To Her"
But You Have No Idea What To Say?

3 – Have you ever tried to get a womans phone number so that you could build on that magic moment... only to have it go so wrong? Why do all your friends seem to always have pockets full of slips of paper, each slip containing the phone number of an attractive woman... and you have none?

Have you ever found your self freezing up ahead of time... already preparing yourself for the fact that when you asked her, you already knew that you were not going to wind up with her phone number? Your pulse was racing, your hands were clammy, she could hear the stress in your voice?

I Have Your Solution!

Imagine this scenario.

Picture that you are always traveling with a very large group of hundreds of the sharpest pick-up experts on the planet...

Version 1.0!

Totally Eliminate The Horrible Feeling Of "I Don't Know What To Say" With Women - Instantly!

The 3 Biggest Problems That Most Men Are Facing With Women And How This Never-Seen-Before Software Discovery Will Help YOU Eliminate Them Instantly!

Problem #1: Don't have a CLUE what to say.

Problem #2: Don't have a CLUE what to do when they run out of topics.

Problem #3: Have TOO MANY ideas on what to say (Information overload)

PROBLEM #1

"I Don't Know WHAT To Say!" (Avoid The WRONG First Impression)

Have you ever had the opportunity to approach an attractive woman and you rack your brain for that tip to tell you what to do; or that magical pickup line that will help you kick-start an interesting conversation?

As usual while she is around, your brain suddenly goes numb and waits until just after she's left to churn up dozens of things to say.

All you can say is "Why on earth did I not think of that before?"

This is a situation when you experience what I call...

"A Brain Blackout"!

Most men simply don't know what to say at the most crucial moments. It doesn't matter how many dating tips you've crammed inside your head or how many strategies you've stayed up nights to remember, when it comes translating them into action, your mind suddenly draws a blank, leaving you with nothing to say.

Remember, The First 10 Seconds Are The Most Critical!

What you say to women actually DOES matter! In fact, matters a lot and according to Lance Mason's "Charismatic Conversations" program, what you should NOT say to women matters a hell of a lot too.

Just like in online advertising the first thing you see when you visit a web site is the headline - if the headline does not grab your attention within 10 seconds, you're more likely to click "X" button of your browser and leave the site - forever!

You have an equally 10 seconds when you're approaching. Your mission is to make those critical 10 seconds count by ensuring that your conversation starter snags the attention of your target with a compelling question or comment that persuades them to stay just a few minutes longer to find out more about you!

I know exactly how downright frustrating it is to 'try' and keep 'trying' to break woman's defense trying to find something interesting to say to spark a stimulating conversation with her.

You could be standing like a statue, looking at the girl you wanted to talk to... and be READY TO DO IT... but when you "started" to move in that direction, you feel something stop you and you immediately start...

Thinking You Need To Be "Original & Creative"!

What's the FIRST thing that comes to your mind when you see an attractive woman that you'd like to meet?

"What To SAY".... right?

Here's the problem...

"Attractive women are "approached", one way or another, CONSTANTLY in a hundred different ways... every day.

When we see a woman that we'd like to meet, we tend to think to ourselves, "I need to come up with something ORIGINAL and CREATIVE to say to her".

Why do we do this?

Because we DON'T want to come across as insincere... or even CHEESY.

So we look at her... try to notice something about her... maybe try to come up with some kind of original compliment... or creative humor.

From HER perspective, every guy is walking up to her and saying one of the SAME FEW THINGS.

The irony is that in our desire and attempt to be ORIGINAL... we wind up saying essentially the SAME THING as the last hundred guys"

PROBLEM #2

"I Run Out Of Topics!" (Avoid Boring Conversations)

I'd like you to ask yourself... What is the most stressful part of a first date?

"How To Spark A Stimulating Conversation With Her!" ...right?

The truth is that the conversation while you're interacting with the woman can make the difference between success and failure. When you know what to ask and what topics to bring up the right time, you increase the chances of attracting her and securing dates in the future.

Remember, women are not attracted to boring guys. It's that simple!

It's all about demonstration of high personality value right on from the beginning. Asking interesting questions and sparking stimulating conversations to connect, you will be on your way to attract women!

PROBLEM #3

"I Can't Remember Everything I've Learnt" (Information Overload & Stress Of Blackout)

Dating tips that are coming at you from different dating gurus from all directions (newsletters in your email inbox...ebooks... DVD / CD, etc).

This barrage of information overload is enough to render you unable to figure out what is important and what is not and it confuses you!

No matter what great dating tips you've learnt, sorting through all of that in your mind will put you in a state of confusion (at least temporarily), and it's impossible to be CONFIDENT when you are confused.

Confusion isn't attractive and "information overload" will take over your entire brain.

The Bottom Line on Information Overload...

Information comes at us from all directions at an amazing rate. Information overload is easy to encounter and hard to counteract. By tracking the IMPORTANT information and limiting the amount of material that comes to you, you will eliminate much of the source of information overload.

"If You Want To Discover How This New & Simple Software Can Help You Solve The 3 Biggest Problems That Most Men Are Facing With Women Then Buckle Your Seat-Belt, We're Taking A Ride!

One night in July of 2006, my friend Angelo and I were at a bar in the center of the town called "Waves" working, as usual, on mastering the formula to crack the "Meeting Women" code...

Angelo had painstakingly carried along piece of papers (cheat-sheets) to help him remember all the innumerable dating tips and sparkling conversation starters that we had discovered and so carefully researched.

And while we sat there, at the bar, we decided to try out some of the most popular dating techniques besides some of our own... just to see how practical and effective they were...

And every time Angelo decided to try out a technique, he would dig into his pockets, fish out the scraps of paper and then hastily memorize the technique, before he tested it on an unsuspecting woman...

Although he did his best to make sure he had it all in place, we still could not avoid the confusion and clutter, every time he had to refer to his cheat-sheets... the minute a technique worked out, he would have to rush back to make a note of it for future reference... and we could not possibly have everyone watching us while he kept digging them out!

So, we finally ended up with him making innumerable trips to the restroom while I guarded over him... which, I'm sure, made us look incredibly foolish...

And as I watched him make all those futile attempts, an idea suddenly flashed in my mind...

"A Software That Can Be Instantly & So Simply Installed On Your Cell Phone & Gives You Instant Access To A Database FULL Of Proven Conversation Starters & Dating Tips - At Anytime!"

The goal from day one when we started developing Mobile Dating Advisor™ was to make it easy and fast for you to understand the "level of interaction" that women find attractive on a man.

Having Mobile Dating Advisor installed on your phone, you'll have a direct access to the database where you can browse and study killer dating tips, techniques and conversation starters, anytime, anywhere!

Browsing the database you'll not just be able to see with your own eyes REAL-LIFE word-by-word examples how to interact with women in situations like bars, clubs, coffee spots, streets and many more, but you'll also discover...

- 10 examples how to turn a simple eye-contact into a stimulating conversation.
- 20 examples how to approach directly and indirectly anywhere.
- 100 super-interesting questions you can ask a woman and talk for hours.
- Over 30 non-verbal examples you can use to tease her.

"How This Software Can Help YOU Improve Your Conversation Skills & Success With Women?"

That's a good question!

Before I answer, let me tell you something VERY important...

I've heard many guys declare, "I just want to be myself. If the woman has to get attracted to me, she has to know who I really am. And that's the person she has to get attracted to, not some phony guy who's making lame attempts at trying to be the macho dude!"

And they're perfectly right! If you want a woman to be attracted to you, you must be true to yourself... there isn't one person or guide who will tell you otherwise. It is incredibly pathetic to masquerade as someone you are not.

But as with any other aspect of your personality, when you emphasize on just being yourself and refusing to do anything about the way you are, aren't you blocking out learning and stunting your growth as a result?

When you are adamant about not being open to ideas and suggestions, you are, in fact, losing out on the opportunity to learn and explore and even know yourself better in the process. And we are not just talking about dating experiences here.

Learning and working on yourself are crucial to the overall development of your personality as a whole something that will invariably help you in every avenue of your life.

...and here is where Mobile Dating Advisor comes into play!

First, let me tell you what this software is NOT!

- ✘ This software is NOT a collection of old-fashioned cheesy pickup lines.
- ✘ This software is NOT something you have seen before. (I bet!)
- ✘ This software is NOT developed by people who are new to dating!

The Mobile Dating Advisor™ is a SELF-IMPROVEMENT product that gives you a direct ticket to a fast-growing database full of dating tips, pick-up lines and conversation starters that shows you, through REAL-LIFE word-by-word examples, how to interact with women in various situations and transform yourself from a “regular” guy, the one that running out of topics or things to say, into a charming, dynamic and immensely attractive persona.

How you can achieve that?

The more you browse the database... the more you understand the code and the level of interaction that women are attracted to. And believe me, once you understand how this code works, you'll totally eliminate the horrible feeling of "I Don't Know What To Say" and you'll be able to spark stimulating conversations by your own with ANY woman, in ANY place and as a NATURAL!

And I know, many of you reading this are thinking to yourself...

"...Pickup lines are fine, but won't get me a date... I need a hell lot more than that"
Isn't that the very thought that's crossing your mind? And guess what...

...you're right!

Personally, I also believe that it's not only WHAT you say to a woman, but also HOW you say it. And if you really think about it, once you get the what, the how is never too far behind...

Check this out...

★ FACT: Do you remember when we were children at school, we all had these two hundred pages math books filled with intricate formulas, every one of which we had to remember to get ourselves a decent report card?

We sure couldn't do as well as we did without those cheat sheets to keep peeping into at the appropriate moments. The fast-track reference was what we needed the most!

They worked! All you had to do was to be smart enough not to get caught. But come on... even the nerds used cheat-sheets!

No matter how smart the student was, he was no exception to the "How do I remember so much?" syndrome. The cheat-sheets seemed to be the perfect solution to all our worries.

She is making an eye-contact with you, expecting you to break the ice, but your brain decides to take a nap right then.

As you stare at her, all goggle-eyed, you forget all about the meal, about your friends or even the restaurant. All you can see is a woman crafted to perfection, sensuous, gorgeous...

As you watch her glide around the table, politely explaining the strange names, helping you place your order, you can't help feeling that she seems to be paying you a lot of attention, going that extra bit to make sure you're comfortable.

You're overwhelmed by the urge to get her phone number... you don't even know how to begin! You could gush on and on about the food... but you can't even pronounce those names!

You're actually clueless about what would really interest her, hold her attention for more than ten seconds... and not make you sound like a dork.

Real-Life Problem Scenario:

You find yourself loitering through the neighborhood mall for want of anything better to do on a Saturday afternoon...

Walking towards you, armed with a couple of shopping bags, is an attractive woman. All you can think of is that you have to talk to her, get to know her and this may very well be the only opportunity...

You float towards her, almost in a trance when your bubble bursts. What do you say to her?

You can offer to carry her bags, but she may just take you to be a chauvinist who thinks women are weak and always in need of help. And the way she looks, she's probably heard that a dozen times already.

You think harder, but all you can come up with is that she's very beautiful and... that's it... she's just very beautiful. You can't very well go up to her and say that... she'll think you're the dumbest guy in town.

You finally give up and walk away, given your success ratio with beautiful women, you're sure you'll probably end up making a fool of yourself.

You're laboring at your daily workout, at your sweatiest worst when this incredible bombshell walks in. You've seen her around before but could never get close enough to speak to her... it's the perfect opportunity!

You put your grimy towel away, bravely walk up to her and introduce yourself, after you've both agreed that the working out is indeed very healthy and how global warming is making the summers warmer, you fall silent.

She looks at you enquiringly and you rack your brains for something to say, but in vain. You finally walk away, feeling unbelievably foolish...

As you feel her eyes on your back, you're longing for the earth to crack open and swallow you whole...

As she walks towards you with a group of her girlfriends, you double-take... she seems to be looking right at you. You cross your fingers as you smile at her, praying she won't look away.

You can't believe it... she's smiling back at you!

It's just what you need, the perfect opportunity!

You decided to take the chance... go up to her and grab her attention... but what do you say? All you can think of is that she's very beautiful and you're sure she's aware of that!

All it will do is make you look like a desperate trying to make silly excuses to talk to a woman.

Too late... she's already passed you by and you return to yet another lonely Saturday evening.

You turn to find two unbelievably attractive women looking right at you. What's more? They're even smiling at you.

You can't believe it! You turn down your radio and smile back at them. And then your bubble bursts... with your boyish looks, what on earth do you say to them that won't make you sound juvenile and immature?

As you draw closer, your jaw drops open... you see a gorgeous, elegant and smart woman!... As you step up, your brain screams at you to start a playful conversation with her, but how?

Perhaps you could talk to her about books, but darn! You're hopeless at reading and don't even know what the book you've selected is even about... how expansive the collection is, how wonderful a habit it is to read... you strike them off your list one at a time... you can already tell she's heard everyone of those lines before... she can probably see right through them...

You fumble with your change, taking longer than you usually do... think, think!

The queue's pushing against your back... you just have a few more seconds to make your move, and you'd better make it quick...

As she hands you your package, you stare at her for a minute longer and then abruptly turn around and leave...you don't need an expert to tell that you've blown it, big-time.

communication as well as you've learnt the verbal part of it....

And here's when this category plays the most important role. You'll find tips and conversation starters that will help you master the art of teasing, fun questions that'll make every conversation a breeze, innovative pointers on how to ask for her phone number... or better to get her to give it to you!

Extra Category #8

Disqualifiers

It is an established psychological fact that what woman can't have, they want more... and this is a very useful tactic to use when you play an indirect game as it can disarm a woman by keeping her miles away from thinking that the man is hitting on her....

This also applies to the pre-selection theory... a man who is taken instantly becomes more desirable to a woman than if he wore a 'Single' Tag... it's like the Forbidden Fruit that every woman wants but only a few get... which makes it all the more desirable.

In the database, you'll find numerous powerful disqualifiers that'll make you keep the woman guessing. And this can be used in the unlikeliest of situations.

For instance, you can say:

"If I weren't gay, you'd be so my type."

"I bet you're even prettier without so much make-up on.

By saying the very opposite of what every good-looking woman expects to hear, you are actually challenging her to get you attracted to her... and this automatically makes you that much more desirable to a woman than if she knew that you were, indeed, attracted to her.

And all it takes is a little practice and some help from our product... you'll soon be the forbidden fruit that every woman lusts for!

Extra Category #9

NLP

Neuro-Linguistic Programming seduction, or NLP seduction as it is most often referred to is a new trend of techniques used to make you a total hit with the ladies.

NLP Seduction (and other fields of neuro-linguistic programming) is based on the fact that you can "program" your brain just like a computer, telling your unconscious mind to act the way you want it to act in specific situations.

You'll find NLP examples like...

"I'm getting a vibe from you... that you are an intuitive person. But you often act using your logic, without trusting your intuition. You have this instinct that tells you when someone worthy is in front of you... now... it's time to trust your intuition more"

What this translates is that you are transforming yourself into a natural charmer, for whom attracting women, is easier than brushing his teeth...

And if that's not intriguing enough, our product also tells you how to transform yourself into a Natural Seducer. With our ground-breaking techniques and tips, you're bound to succeed... and with flying colors at that.
